

VideoManager Pro

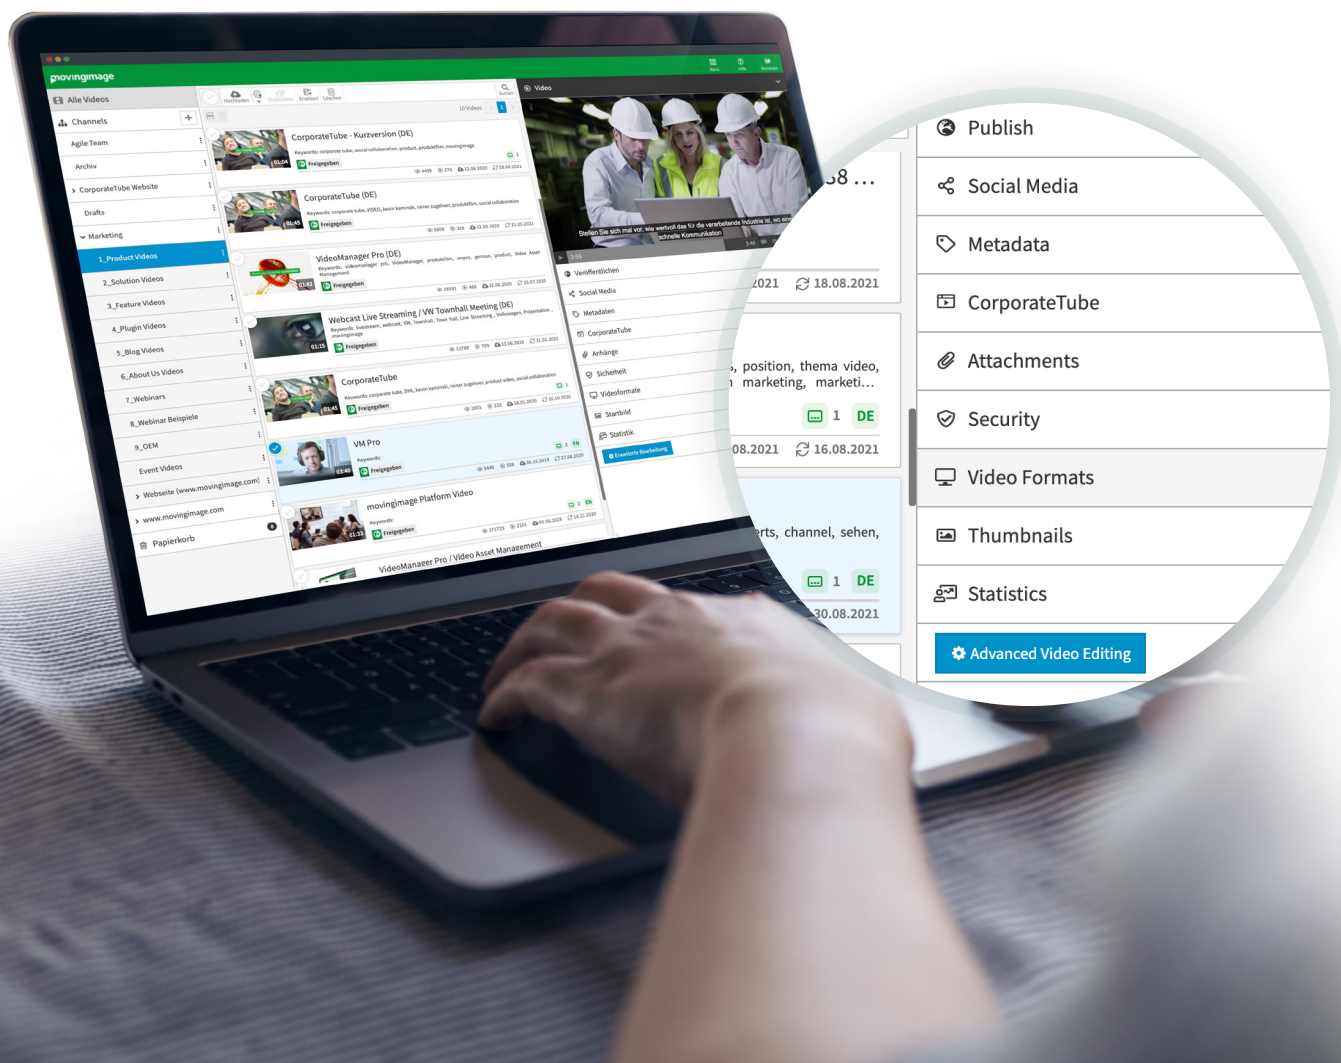

Your video CMS

The video content management system (CMS) from movingimage allows you to edit, manage, and maintain your entire video portfolio using a single product: VideoManager Pro. It not only sets the stage for various corporate video use cases – from corporate eLearning to livestreaming to support and maintenance – but also offers a wide range of enterprise-class features.

Highlights

VideoManager Pro is designed specifically for companies and for use in corporate video production. It offers an extensive range of features, including granular rights and roles, geoblocking, token authentication, metadata, various AI-powered functions, and automatic transcoding.

The product is based on modular technology that allows users to adapt the settings to the requirements of their organization. Companies can align their video processes with their business operations in this manner.
